

MAY 12 1919 ✓

©CLM 1325c

✓ NEW Screen Magazine,
No. 13.

One Reel

THIS week the Screen Magazine shows how to keep your baby well, and gives a proper and substantial diet for a young child. We next see some of the methods pursued by that very difficult thing to argue with, a hold-up man, in which we are shown an easy way of reducing a tax bill. We are next introduced to the sloth, an immigrant from South America, who cares as little for an alarm clock as a doughboy the first day after his discharge, and who gives us some thing on insomnia. The Mishkas, star dancers of the Broadway hit, "Tumble In," show us how they attract the crowds, and from there we are carried in the flash of an eye to far-off India, where the Hindus lead peaceful married lives with the women of the families doing all the work. From there we are transported to the Never-Never land, where dreams come true, streams run the other way, trees grow backward, waiters don't take tips, and where you can smoke your cigarette and have it, too.

This document is from the Library of Congress
“Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection,
1912-1977”

Collections Summary:

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004>

Class M Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002>

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress